

Ettikan Kandasamy Karuppiyah

Director of Developer's Ecosystem,
NVIDIA (Singapore),
Singapore

Topic: Nvidia Platforms for Conversational AI

Abstract:

TBA

Bio:

Ettikan KK., with Ph.D (in the area of Distributed Computing), MSc (Computer Science) and Bachelor of Computer Science, is currently attached to Nvidia (Singapore) as Director of Developers' Ecosystem, APAC South assisting innovators, researchers and techno-entrepreneurs to accelerate GPU adaptation for their R&D and software solutioning needs using various methods including Deep Learning/Machine Learning. He has direct experience and passionate in accelerated computing/software research, design and development covering end-to-end needs.

He is also actively engaged in technology sharing programs with local/foreign Universities serving various positions (Industry Advisory Panel); University Program Chair for Intel/Panasonic-MMU; Research Project Mentor; Research Guide HCMUT/Vietnam; Joint Project with USM/MMU/UTAR etc; Guest Lectures, etc). He has performed multiple consultancy services specific to his area of expertise within and external to his company. He was a certified PMP and has wide project/people management experience from the above mentioned projects, cross teams, region & culture. IEEE member and participates in IETF activities.